September 2026

attacks.

Patriot Day is September 11, a day of remembrance of all who perished that day. Starting this year, another moment of silence and bell toll will be added to the traditional six, in memory of the thousands who have died from 9/11-related illnesses since the Sundown on September 11 marks Rosh Hashanah, the beginning of year 5787 on the Hebrew calendar. We wish a peaceful, healthy new year to our Jewish friends.

Last, autumn officially begins September 22. Let's hope the weather gets the memo. We are more than ready for cooler temperatures!

All the best,

Can Someone with Alzheimer's Create A Valid Will?

Many estate challenges are launched based on the premise that someone with Alzheimer's disease or other cognitive deficit cannot possibly execute a valid will. Sometimes that is true, but not always: The person may still be capable of expressing his/her genuine wishes in a will that passes legal muster.
